Completers and skills-building students at Cañada College were surveyed if they met one of the following criteria in 2017-2018, and did not enroll (or were minimally enrolled) in 2018-2019: earned a certificate of 6 or more units, earned a vocational degree, or earned 9+ CTE units. The survey was administered in 2020 by e-mail, text message (SMS), and telephone. The survey addressed student perceptions of their CTE program, employment outcomes, and how their coursework and training relate to their current career. A total of 523 students were surveyed and 155 (30%) students responded: 36% by email, 50% by phone, and 14% by SMS.

More Key Results

- $5.00 is the overall change in hourly wages after completing training— in dollars
- 20% is the overall change in hourly wages after completing training— in percentage gain
- 81% of respondents reported being employed
- 28% of respondents reported transferring to another college or university
- 90% of respondents reported being very satisfied or satisfied with their training.

Conclusion

The results of the survey showed that completing CTE studies and training – whether or not a credential is earned, whether or not a student transfers – is related to positive employment outcomes. The preponderance of respondents are employed and are working in the same field as their studies or training. Notably, students realize a greater wage gain after completing their studies if they secure a job that is similar to their program of study.

For 2020, current data was used when available, data collected on pre-pandemic outcomes was used when current data was unavailable.

The option of “Furloughed” was only available to respondents who took the survey version initiated after the start of the COVID-19 pandemic.
